

Castillo named Director of Golf for the Women In Golf Foundation.

Class A Member and National Evaluator for the LPGA, Oneda Castillo has been named Director of Golf for the Women In Golf Foundation.

The Women In Golf Foundation is a 501-C3 organization headquartered in Atlanta Georgia that promotes women in golf. The organization focuses on creating opportunities for females, by implementing programs that develop leadership and life skills, as they learn to play golf competitively, for business, and recreational purposes. Support and training are provided for female youth golfers from early age through college and entry into their chosen professions.

The foundation's signature fund raising event is the National Women's Collegiate Golf Classic contested by young women from Historically Black Colleges and Universities. This year's tournament is scheduled for April 24th thru the 26th, Stone Mountain Golf Course, Stone Mountain, Georgia.
